

Student assistant with strong designer skills

The AU International Office is looking for a new student assistant to help with the recruitment and retention of international students at Aarhus University.

The student assistant will be part of the international recruitment, marketing, and career team at the International Office. The team consists of five full-time staff members and around seven student assistants.

Primary tasks

- Graphic design
- Create digital design content for web, social media, videos etc.
- Help set up pamphlets, leaflets, posters etc.

Expected qualifications

- Experience with InDesign, Photoshop and other Adobe programmes
- Possible understanding of UI/UX Design Principles
- Possible experience with Typo3 CMS and/or HTML/CSS programming
- Possible experience with SiteImprove
- Possible experience with Instagram and Facebook ad campaigns

In addition, we expect that you are:

- Comfortable working independently and manage own tasks
- Creative, but also comfortable with routine tasks
- Well organized with a good sense of detail
- Internationally minded

As our Student Assistant, you will get the opportunity to

- Work independently and create your own projects
- Gain practical experience with a number of different design and web tasks
- Gain real life experience with teamwork in a great team

Additional information

Your place of work will be the AU International Centre at Høegh Guldbergs Gade 4a in Aarhus.

The position is paid according to state agreements.

Who can apply?

The AU International Office encourages students who have at least one year left of their studies in Denmark to apply for the position. Please note that you need to be a full-time student at a higher learning institution in order to apply.
