

AU Summer University – Guest Lecturers at the Department of Management

Aarhus University, Business and Social Sciences, hereby invites faculty members to teach for three weeks in July or August 2025 at AU Summer University.

Course suggestions

At the Department of Management, we are looking for lecturers who can teach at Bachelor's or Master's levels within, but not limited to, the following fields:

- Innovation
- Entrepreneurship
- Strategy
- Leadership
- Organization studies
- Marketing (B2B and B2C)
- Sourcing and Purchasing management
- Retail management
- Management accounting and control
- Financial accounting and auditing (including specialized topics such as forensic accounting and audit data analytics)
- International business
- Business Psychology
- Digitalization (e.g. data governance and cybersecurity)
- Inter-disciplinary courses involving the management discipline

We invite proposals for specialized courses that do not overlap with our current teaching portfolio. We encourage you to explicitly state how your proposal differs from or complements our current offerings. For information on the programs offered by the department, including course descriptions, please visit the relevant following links:

- Bachelor programs
- Master programs
- You can find examples of courses from 2024 here.

Please submit your course proposal along with your CV and PhD diploma. If you wish to propose more than one course, please submit two different applications (by using two different e-mail addresses). Do not include two proposals in the same application.

IMPORTANT

Your course proposal should contain a brief outline of the aim, main contents, learning objectives, and teaching methods. Please state the proposed level (BA or MA). Applications that do not contain a course proposal will not be taken into consideration. Note that the teaching will take place on-site at Aarhus University.

Application guide and template

Please use our course description template for your course proposal and upload it as your application. You can find the template and consult our application guide here.

Salary

The salary offered is 8075 EURO. We also pay for one return ticket on economy class. Your salary will be subject to taxation in Denmark, and the tax rate will be around 25%. Double taxation agreements may have an influence on the total taxation of your income in Denmark when declared at home.

Teaching periods for 2025

You can choose to run your course in

Term 1: 2 July - 18 July 2025

or

Term 2: 23 July - 8 August 2025

You are expected to teach all weekdays from 9-13, start and end date included. Class size ranges between 20 and 40 students.

Besides teaching, we expect you to assess the written exam and two retakes.
